X PARTY. FUTURE PARTY

The next month, we have European elections. Nowadays in Spain we are disappointed with politicians because there are a lot of cases of corruption in all the political parties.

As a consequence, a group of citizens that has appeared since the "15M" movement has set up a new party, the X party.

This new political option is based on openness and real democracy. Their candidate to the European elections is Hervé Falciani, an IT guy that worked in HSBC bank of Switzerland and who has information about VIP fraudsters. For example, Emilio Botín, president of Santander bank, paid 200.000.000 € to the Spanish tax office thanks to Falciani's list.

The population supports X party. They needed to collect 15.000 signatures to run in the elections and they have collected them!

Right now, they are looking for funding for the European elections and, in this moment, they have recollected 32.385 € (around 52 %) and all the expenses are broke down in their web page (partidox.org).

If we want the future to be different, we have to change it.
